

U. S. CONVICTS ESCAPE

In a Fight With a Posse Two Were Killed and Two Wounded.

None of the Pursuing Party Were Hurt—Seven More Men Were Captured in Different Places Without Resistance.

Leavenworth, Kan., Nov. 8.—One man was killed, three others dangerously wounded, and 26 desperate convicts are at large as a result of a mutiny late Thursday afternoon at the site of the new United States prison, two miles southeast of here, where 400 prisoners from the federal prison, in charge of 30 armed guards, were at work.

Most of the escaped men are from Indian Territory.

Leavenworth, Kan., Nov. 9.—Eleven of the 26 convicts who escaped from the stockade of the new federal prison here have been accounted for. Two of the five are dead. The fourth, Willard Drake, white, aged 19, is wounded and recaptured, and the fifth, Fred Moore, aged 16, a Negro, recaptured, also wounded. The five men were discovered in the barn of Fay Weishaar, a quarter of a mile from Nortonville, Kan.

Two more convicts, Donald Norie and R. L. Davenport, were captured in a field two miles north of Jarbalo. They were hiding in a ravine, and, being unarmed, they surrendered without resistance.

Two more were captured in Topeka. Topeka, Kan., Nov. 11.—Sheriff Cook, of this county, and Deputy Sheriff Williams were captured by two escaped convicts from the Fort Leavenworth military prison Sunday afternoon at Pauline, five miles south of Topeka, and held prisoners in the farm house of a man named Wooster for several hours. They both finally escaped. Both are slightly wounded. Wooster was badly wounded by one of the convicts when he tried to fire on them. Sheriff Cook and Sheriff Williams were held before the convicts as a shield by the prisoners in making their escape. A posse is in pursuit.

At 2:30 Sunday afternoon some farmer boys near Pauline learned that the convicts were in the neighborhood. Hastily forming a posse, armed with target rifles, pistols and clubs, they gave chase. Neither of the convicts were armed, and they were unable to make a stand. Later Sheriff Cook and Deputy Williams arrived. Coming upon the convicts both officers fired, wounding the men, but not disabling them.

The convicts then fled through a small opening in the timber and ran into the house of Farmer Wooster. Sheriff Cook telephoned to Topeka for assistance, and then took up the chase. Thinking the convicts had run around the house, Cook darted through the door, intending to surprise them at the rear door. But instead of this the convicts had gone into the house and the officer almost fell into their arms. Sheriff Cook was ordered to give up his gun, which he did. Deputy Williams by this time had reached the house and entered without knowing what had happened inside, and he, too, was made captive by the convicts.

A SUSPECTED ROBBER.

John Rose, Under Arrest in St. Louis, Identified as H. Longbaugh, a Western Desperado.

St. Louis, Nov. 9.—John Rose, the man suspected of the robbery of an express car on the Great Northern railroad, near Wagner, Mont., July 3, last, and who was arrested in this city by detectives on Tuesday, has been identified as Harry Longbaugh, a celebrated western desperado. The identification was made by a St. Louis man, who desires his name withheld. He was prosecuting attorney of Cook county, Wyoming, in 1887, and prosecuted Longbaugh in that year on a charge of horse-stealing. Longbaugh was convicted and sentenced to 18 months in jail. The ex-prosecuting attorney described to Chief Desmond the distinguishing marks of the Longbaugh of 1887, and as these are all found upon Desmond's prisoner, he is satisfied that he has the bandit properly identified.

Chief of Detectives Desmond said he would, if necessary, send for one of the officers of Wagner, at the department's expense, to come here and identify Longbaugh.

Hot Springs, Ark., Nov. 9.—Harry Longbaugh and another man, the former now under arrest with a woman, Laura Burillon, in St. Louis, suspected of connection with the gang that robbed the Great Northern express car last July, and on whom much of the unsigned stolen money was found, are believed to be the persons who flooded this city with the Helena, Mont., bank notes.

It is claimed that Longbaugh, while here, had his hair, eyebrows and moustache dyed by a barber. Longbaugh is thought to have left here Wednesday or Thursday of last week, but the other man was seen on the streets here as late as Tuesday evening. The officials of the banks here estimate that no less than $2,000 of the stolen bank notes was left in this city. Every day somebody brings one or more to the banks for deposit. A farmer received one from a prominent merchant in part payment for a bale of cotton.

CALLAHAN NOT GUILTY.

Acquitted of the Charge of Perjury in His Trial in Connection With the Cudahy Kidnaping.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 9.—The jury in the case of James Callahan, after being out 36 hours, brought in a verdict, finding the defendant not guilty, and the prisoner was discharged. This is the latest chapter of the mystery surrounding the kidnaping of Eddie Cudahy, son of E. A. Cudahy, the millionaire packer, and this is practically the second time Callahan has been acquitted of the kidnaping charge. Callahan was first tried about nine months ago on a charge of robbery, there being no statute in Nebraska making kidnaping a violation of the law. Acquitted of this charge, Callahan was then tried on a charge of perjury himself in the robbery trial, and again acquitted.

He expressed himself as delighted with the spirit of co-operation which he found throughout the various sections of the country and the increased hopefulness of the people. Improvements in municipal arrangements are also noticeable, and intense interest was shown in education wherever he went. There was a demand for more schools. Fifty thousand pupils are attending schools, and 200,000 are unable to obtain tuition.

THE BRIGANDS HIDING.

Captors of the American Missionary Have Fled to the Frontier.

Miss Stone May Be Killed as Soon as the Ransom Is Paid to Prevent Her Telling Her Experience.

Sofia, Bulgaria, Nov. 11.—Information has been received here from Doubnitsa that the band of brigands holding captive Miss Ellen M. Stone, the American missionary, called about a fortnight ago at the village of Smetzvo and subsequently proceeded to the monastery of Rilo, but the movements of the troops compelled the brigands to flee toward the frontier, where they are now in hiding. It is also asserted that brigands have recently been treating Miss Stone with more severity in order to exercise pressure and to compel a more ready acceptance of their conditions.

Consul General Dickinson is indelible. He insists that the surrender of Miss Stone must precede or be simultaneous with the payment of the ransom. His attitude is justified by the known determination of some members of the band, particularly the captain, Yanne Sandansky, to kill Miss Stone and her companion as soon as the ransom is received, owing to the fact that the captives have now acquired information concerning the secret committees. Competent persons, however, express the opinion that the cupidity of the brigands will overcome their fear of revelations, and all such approve the declaration of Mr. Dickinson.

Mr. Dickinson has made energetic representations to the Bulgarian government against the movements of the Bulgarian troops, reproaching the officials with the fact that, notwithstanding their solemn promise to give him all assistance in their power, their action was embarrassing the negotiations, retarding a settlement, and placing in jeopardy the life of Miss Stone. He made a definite declaration that the Bulgarian government would be held responsible for the death of Miss Stone and of all the consequences of her death, should it be proved that the attitude of the Bulgarian government forced the brigands to kill their captives.

CHARLESTON EXPOSITION.

Hundreds of Car Loads of Exhibits Are Arriving Daily and a Great Show Is Promised.

Charleston, S. C., Nov. 11.—Exhibitors and concessionaries are coming to Charleston in large numbers, and during the past few days a hundred car loads of exhibits have arrived here for the exposition.

Architect Huston, of the Philadelphia building, is here to receive the building from the contractors. It is ready for the Liberty bell, which it will shelter during the exposition. More than 2,000 men are now employed on the exposition grounds. The housing commission of the woman's department has already secured accommodations for more than 10,000 exhibition visitors in private families and boarding houses. The usual rate for lodgers will be $1, and for lodging and breakfast $1.25. Nearly every house in Charleston will be converted for the exposition period into a house of entertainment, and the sentiment of the community is against every attempt to exact heavy tolls of the visitors. The railroads have agreed upon low rates, 30 per cent. lower than the rates made for Buffalo, and the city council will pass an ordinance next Tuesday night for the protection of the roads from the scalpers. The attendance promises to be at least twice what the promoters of the project expected, and the exposition will be one of the most artistic ever held in the south.

PAYMASTER ROBBED.

Paper Money to the Amount of $4,800 Mysteriously Abstracted From His Satchel.

Pensacola, Fla., Nov. 11.—Paymaster Stevens, of the United States army, arrived from Atlanta Saturday, and before leaving that city placed in a hand satchel 200 silver dollars and $4,800 in paper money for the purpose of paying several hundred artillerymen at Forts Barancas and McRea their salaries for the past month. When he reached the fort here he opened his grip and found all the paper money had been abstracted. The 200 silver dollars remained. Amusement and surprise followed the discovery, and the news soon spread, becoming known here about midnight. The police were instructed to watch out for the treasure. Paymaster Stevens thinks some pickpocket followed him and relieved him during the trip. He can not recall a single incident of the trip that would lead to anything on the robbery, but has an idea the money was taken before he left Atlanta.

ALL BUT THE VERDICT.

The Schley Court of Inquiry Has Held Its Last Public Session—Close of the Argument.

Washington, Nov. 8.—After sittings covering 40 days, and with a record which, when completed, will cover about 2,000 pages, the Schley court of inquiry, at 3:45 p. m., adjourned its last public session. To Capt. S. C. Lemly, the judge advocate, had been assigned the duty of making the closing argument in the case. Soon after he had completed his speech, Adm. Dewey, bringing his gavel down upon the big flat table, said: "There being no further business, the court is adjourned."

There was only one session during the day. It began at 2 o'clock, and the entire time was devoted to Capt. Lemly's address. He read his speech in clear and distinct tones, and was given careful attention. The speech in the main was an analysis of the testimony, but occasionally a conclusion was drawn and frequently there was criticism of the course pursued by Adm. (then Commodore) Schley.

Avoid the Alligator.

He was evidently from the country, this little old German, and as his eyes rested on the elevator, undoubtedly for the first time, his sense of the ridiculous was touched.

For a few minutes he stood in wonderment and then, laughing softly to himself, he stopped the first person he chanced to see, who happened to be the janitor, and fired this at him: "Wat was dot leedle box t'ing yaf valks people oop der stairs stoben still?"

"Oh, that's the elevator," was the answer. "Oh, dat's vat it is, is it? I haf a pocketbook made offen der peel of one of doze." He tried a ride, but didn't like it. Then he said: "I would told my wife nefer to go in mit yon of doze alligators ven der valking by hand vas goot."—N. Y. Post.
